Class of '53

At last! At last! We have actually reached the end of a quarter century and it is time to celebrate!

Make your plans now to attend that memorable occasion of our Silver Anniversary Homecoming. We want to see everyone there October 27-29, 1978.

The Class of '53 extends a special Homecoming invitation to the class of '50 (the big seniors when we were lowly freshmen) through the class of '56 (those eager freshmen when we were seniors). We would like to have all the classes which formed the changing student body while we were students. Be there October 27-29, 1978.

W.S.C.C. Giving Program 1978

Benefactors who give $100.00 per month to the college throughout the calendar year are entitled to attend as many seminars at the college as they desire without additional charges. Benefactors are also entitled to a complete blood profile and urine study at the college clinic with a general physical examination administered by an intern under a clinic director's guidance once per year. The benefactor may instead designate a member of his/her immediate family to receive the services.

Anyone giving the college $1,000.00 per year or more will have their name placed on an attractive plaque displayed in the foyer of Elliot Hall.

Leadership members - Those giving $500.00 to $999.00 will be entitled to six free seminars throughout the year.

Anyone giving the college $100.00 to $499.00 per year will be entitled to two free seminars throughout the year. They will be denoted as Patron members.

Sustaining members are those that give the college from $25.00 to $99.00 per year.

Anyone may become a "Tithe member" by agreeing to contribute:

- fees for one set of X-rays per month
- fees for one new patient examination per month
- fees for one office visit per month

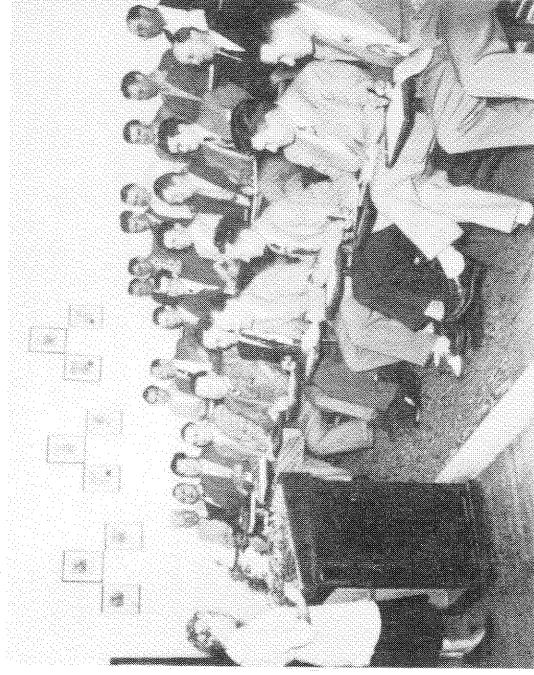

Any gifts to the college may be earmarked for specific purposes. Some examples are:

Capital expenditures - Mortgages - Clinic or College
Library gifts
Equipment for Clinic
Equipment for Science Department
Research funds

Due to the college's need to have at least 20% of its income from sources other than student fees, it is preferred that gifts not be specifically earmarked but rather a suggestion to a use be made, if a specific project is desired.

Remainder and Annuity Trust

Do you have property that you are planning to leave to the college in your will? It could be much more beneficial to you to put it in a remainder and annuity trust now. By doing so now you are able to use the property as you desire, live on it, farm it, build income property on it and not have to pay any taxes on it for the rest of your life.

In a charitable remainder annuity trust a fixed dollar amount, at least 5% of initial net fair market value of the transferred property, is to be paid annually to the beneficiary for life. Upon death of the beneficiary (or survivor beneficiary, if more than one) the college receives the remainder.

An example:

A gift to the college of a $25,000 home

The college pays the giver $2,050 annually

The donor receives a charitable gift deduction of $6,400.00 as opposed to an estimated

$12,000.00 capital gains tax if they had sold the house.

In addition the donor saves all the property taxes that they would have had to pay if they retained the property even though they had continued to use the property. This is true of business or residential property.

Homecoming Presentation:

"THE PSYCHOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF CLINICAL CHIROPRACTICS"

By Dr. Paul Feldman

All healers work through the medium of creative relationships with their patients, yet the interpersonal needs of particular patients are as varied as their physical requirements. This presentation will discuss how certain psychological characteristics make the patient available for improvement while others impede treatment.

Paul Feldman holds a Ph.D in clinical-community psychology and is an experienced individual, marital, family and group therapist as well as organizational consultant. He is the former program director of the Gestalt Institute of Western New York and has trained counselors, consulted to organizations and taught in various colleges and universities since 1974.
